

“the right to be let alone”

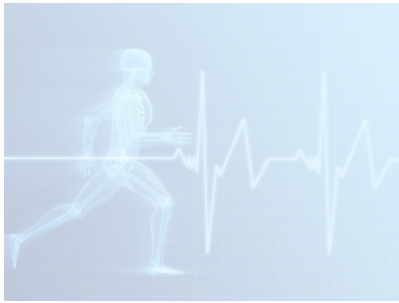

Warren and Brandeis
The Right to Privacy

Harvard Law Review, Vol. IV, No. 5, December 15, 1890

Physical privacy

- Clothes
- Walls and doors
- Medical records
- DNA
- Physical abuse

Physical privacy

Financial privacy

- Credit card fraud
- Identity theft
- Investments

Juridical privacy

Physical privacy

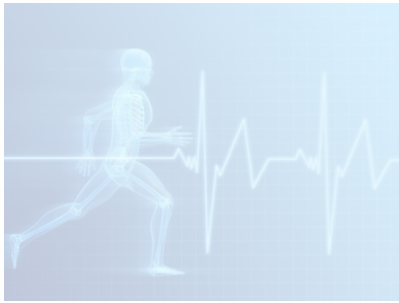

Financial privacy

- Normative
- Differentiate between harm and no harm

Democracy

Physical privacy

Financial privacy

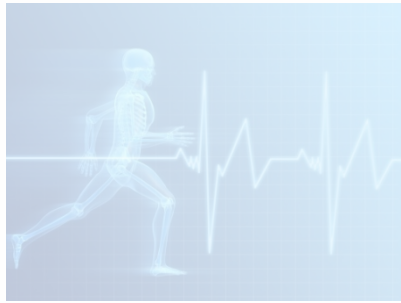

Juridical privacy

- Freedom of speech
- Liberty rights
- Individuality

Identity

Physical privacy

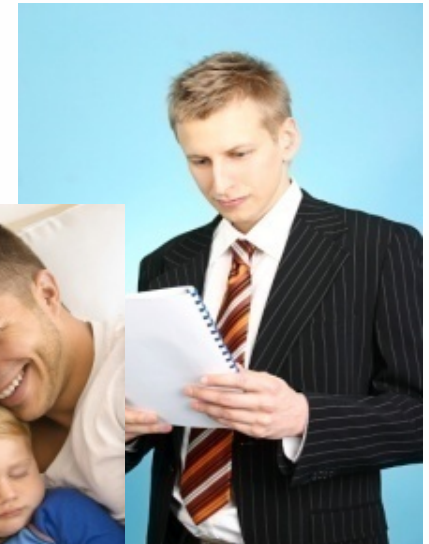

Financial privacy

Juridical privacy

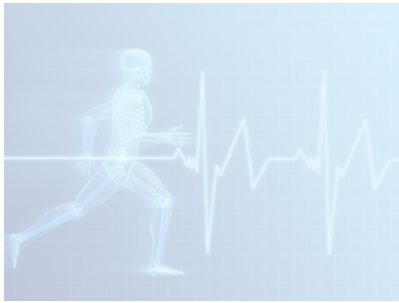

Democracy

- Role separation
- Face work
- Boundary regulation

“Privacy”

Physical privacy

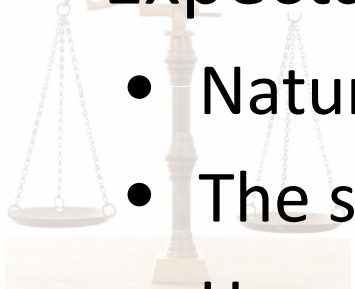

Democracy

Financial privacy

- Expectations of different rooms

Juridical privacy

- Nature
- The square
- Home
 - Digital rooms
- Cellular telephony

Physical privacy

Objective

Secrets

Financial privacy

Juridical privacy

"Privacy"

Culturally dependent

Democracy

Dynamic

Identity

Subjective

Private information